CHROMALLOY APPOINTS INDUSTRY VETERAN ANDREA COLOMBO TO LEAD ENERGY STRATEGIC BUSINESS UNIT (SBU)

PALM BEACH GARDENS, FLORIDA, June 10, 2013 – Chromalloy announced today that it has appointed Andrea Colombo – a seasoned oil and gas industry leader with expertise in Europe, Africa, Asia Pacific and the U.S. – as the company’s new Vice President, Energy, effective July 1, 2013.

“Andrea brings more than 15 years of demonstrated success in the global energy industry to Chromalloy,” said Carlo Luzzatto, President. “He will lead the company’s growth in the areas of OEM products and aftermarket services to power-gen operators.”

Colombo takes the helm from Luzzatto who has been in a dual leadership role since the company announced the SBU structure in 2012.

Colombo earlier worked for many years at GE Oil & Gas. Most recently he held the role of Asia Pacific Projects Operations and Branch Manager, based in Australia. There he held profit and loss (P&L) responsibility for the regional unit and managed sales, marketing, operations, supply chain and new construction development.

Prior to that, he held several leadership roles that included responsibility for management of teams and projects in Europe, Africa, China and the U.S.

Early in his career Colombo worked in the area of nuclear fission energy on behalf of EURATOM and other European agencies. He holds a Master in Engineering in the area of nuclear energy from the Universta di Padova in Italy.
